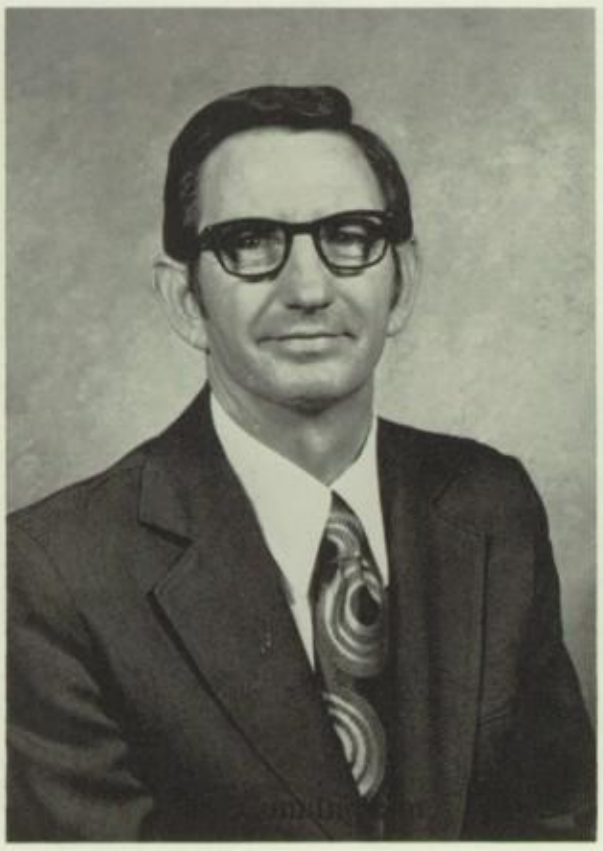
MESSAGES TO SENIORS



Congratulations seniors on reaching the milestone in your life. May you continue to seek knowledge that is so vital in the day in which we live; and to accompany knowledge, success, understanding and fulfillment.

Billy J. Moore
Principal

Billy J. Moore

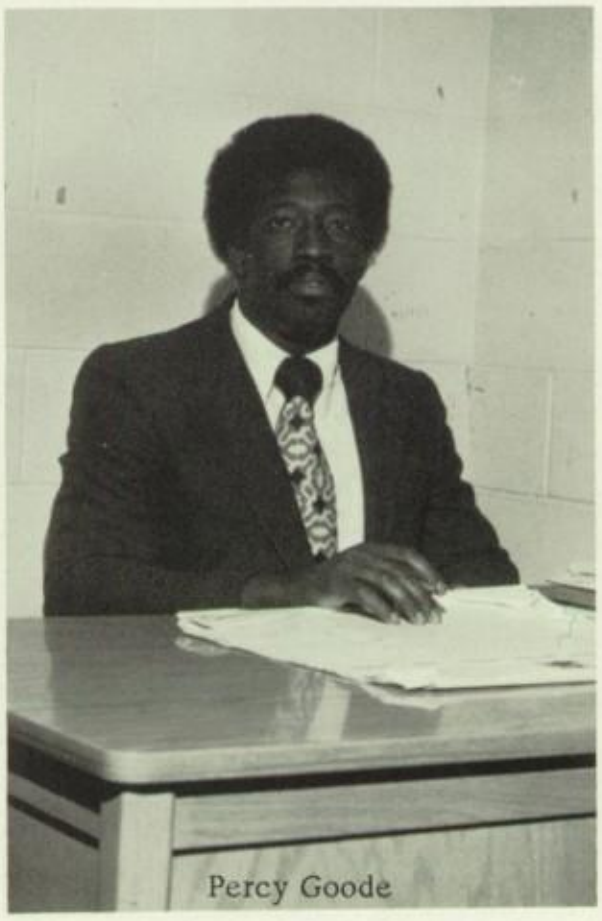
Dear Seniors:

I would like to thank you for giving me the privilege of writing in your annual and also to congratulate you on your graduation from Dora High.

Realizing that this is a joyous time for most of you, I would like for you to give serious thought to educating yourselves even more, whether it be in college, a trade or just the education of life's experiences.

No matter how young or how old, we can always profit from knowledge, no matter how it is gained, if we use it wisely for the benefit of ourselves and our fellowman.

Robert Cunningham



Percy Goode

Mr. Percy Goode:

A man whom Dora High students have respected and turned to for the past three years for guidance and friendship. Since he came to Dora, he has made friends with all he has come in contact with. We would like to take this opportunity to say Thank you.

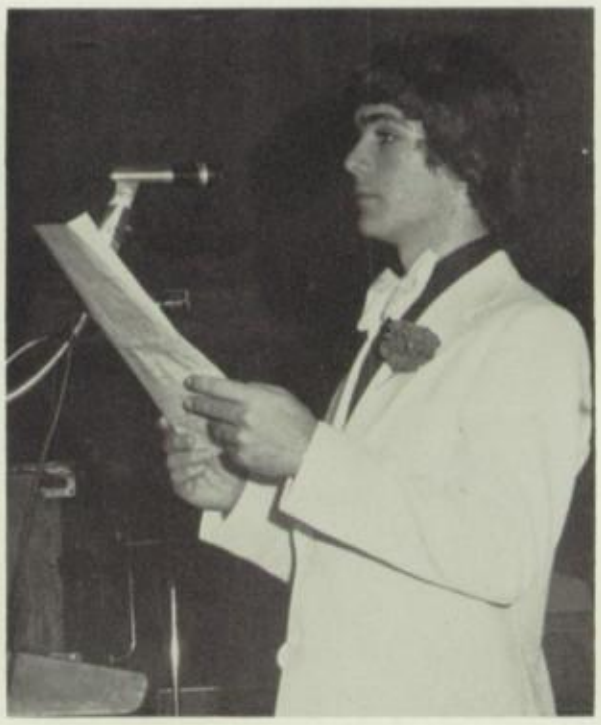
It's Finally Here! Friday night, April 4, 1975 - Our Junior-Senior Prom. As we pin on corsages and boutonniere we nervously pray that tonight will be as special as we have dreamed. We have been looking forward to this night all year. When months before we began selling things to raise enough money so that we can have the best Prom yet, when weeks before we began desperately searching for the perfect clothes that would change us from common people to princes and princesses, this evening when we got dressed just in the nick of time, and tonight while we waited excitedly for the Parliament House to come into view, and now, it's finally reality.

The Prom committee, Mrs. Black and Mr. Davis, did a wonderful job on the Prom. Everything was perfect. The band's name was Ruskin, and no one seemed to be able to sit still when they played.

Tracie Norris 1975 Prom Queen

Ten-thirty, it's almost over. Seniors begin to feel a little sad, because for us it's almost over forever. Sadness, happiness, and pride are mixed in each Senior's heart as they and their special date are recognized in the senior lead-out by master of ceremonies, Randy Knight. Each Dora senior is presented with a beautiful Prom Scroll prepared for them by the Prom committee. Then the special highlight of the night, the Prom Queen is crowned. This year it was Tracie Norris. The band played the Prom's theme song, "Stairway to Heaven," and Tracie and David Sumner led the senior dance.

All too soon it was over, but the memory will last a lifetime. This is when all seniors realize that whatever it took to make it this far - it was worth it!!!



Randy Knight, Master of Ceremonies.

Just to be a part of What made my life so rare,
We are all professional salesmen in about every field,

We are all actors to be feared,
Travelers to anywhere

Never a party pooper

Never completely growing up Never getting tired of hearing FuFu rabbit, always willing to guess
At the moral of the story Never getting tired of Just being together.

Sometimes I wonder if life's worth living, and I wonder who's the blame for all the pain that life has given, but of course I realize that life is just a game, all the odds are just the same for all who've played.
But sometimes it seems that all's against and nothing's with us but shame
And the big wheel of fortune goes round and round, never ending, always beginning, but if we grin at every spin and smile at every lost mile we can end the game with style and say GOODBYE . . .

Life

A misty cloud,
just passing by.
Not long to stay,
Not much time to do,
All you would like to.
Making plans you'll never see come to pass.
Starting things you'll never finish Dreaming dreams which will never come true.
Be happy today, do all YOU can, see all YOU can, have all YOU can. In whatever YOU do be content with whatever, because a storm cloud is up ahead.
And your little cloud could be washed away.

Getting Old

Thinking 'bout the time that's past in my life Wondering where did it all go,
Thinking 'bout the memories
That I've left behind.
Wondering if there'll be much more.
Walking off to school many days, But running fast to get home.
Wish I'd seen myself
through my mother's eyes, How she cried, now I stand alone.
A-sitting here getting old watching my life unfold.

Time

It used to be that time would pass
too slow, Now it seems to whistle past,
In rush to beat me
to the end.
Will I finish first or last?
Who can know what roads will lead you where?
Hard to choose which way to go.
No one knows the answer til the end; Even then, do we really know.
Did we find the right way to go?

FRIENDSHIPS ARE MADE TO GROW

We started out as strangers totally unknown and now our friendship has suddenly grown.
I feel that my feeling for you now are more than that of a friend; I realize that I actually adore every move
you make, each step you take, each time you laugh, each time you're sad, when you're excited and even when you're mad.

I know God knew just what to do, Because, when I was lonely He sent me you.

A Beautiful Day

The sun is shining,
I feel so content.
The flowers are blooming, shedding their scent.
The breeze is blowing,
the grass is soft and green,
This is the most beautiful day I've ever seen.

To the Seniors:

Goodbye!

Time passes by
and who can say,
who will go or who will stay,
who will cry, or who will smile.
Another day, we close our eyes and remember - sweet hellos and sad goodbyes.
And time passes
by and years
seem to fly.

Wrinkles and silver change us all some.
But still we remember, to whom it may concern

Goodbye . . .
